MUSIC
 Music plays a vital part in the School's life, both within the curriculum and as an extra-curricular activity. Music is a timetabled activity for all pupils from Kindergarten up to the Second Year of the Senior School. From Third Year the subject becomes one of the Large numbers of pupils participate enthusiastically in the musical life of the School and choral and orchestral standards are exceptionally high. Not only are there many orchestras, choirs, bands and groups of all kinds and a Pipe Band, there are also regular opportunities to perform throughout the year at choral and choral concerts, services

THE SENIOR SCHOOL CURRICULUM

Our Senior School curriculum is designed to challenge and stimulate pupils, to offer a broad, balanced education without excessive specialisation and to provide an academic framework that allows the development of individual strengths. In Transitus, First and Second Years pupils follow a common course, which includes a wide range of subjects. For each year group, time is allocated to personal and social education, physical education and religion & philosophy. In Third Year, courses leading to Scottish Qualifications Authority examinations are introduced and pupils are presented with a considerable choice of subjects. All choices must include English.

High School pupils consistently achieve the best in Scotland and we are committed to maintaining academic standards.

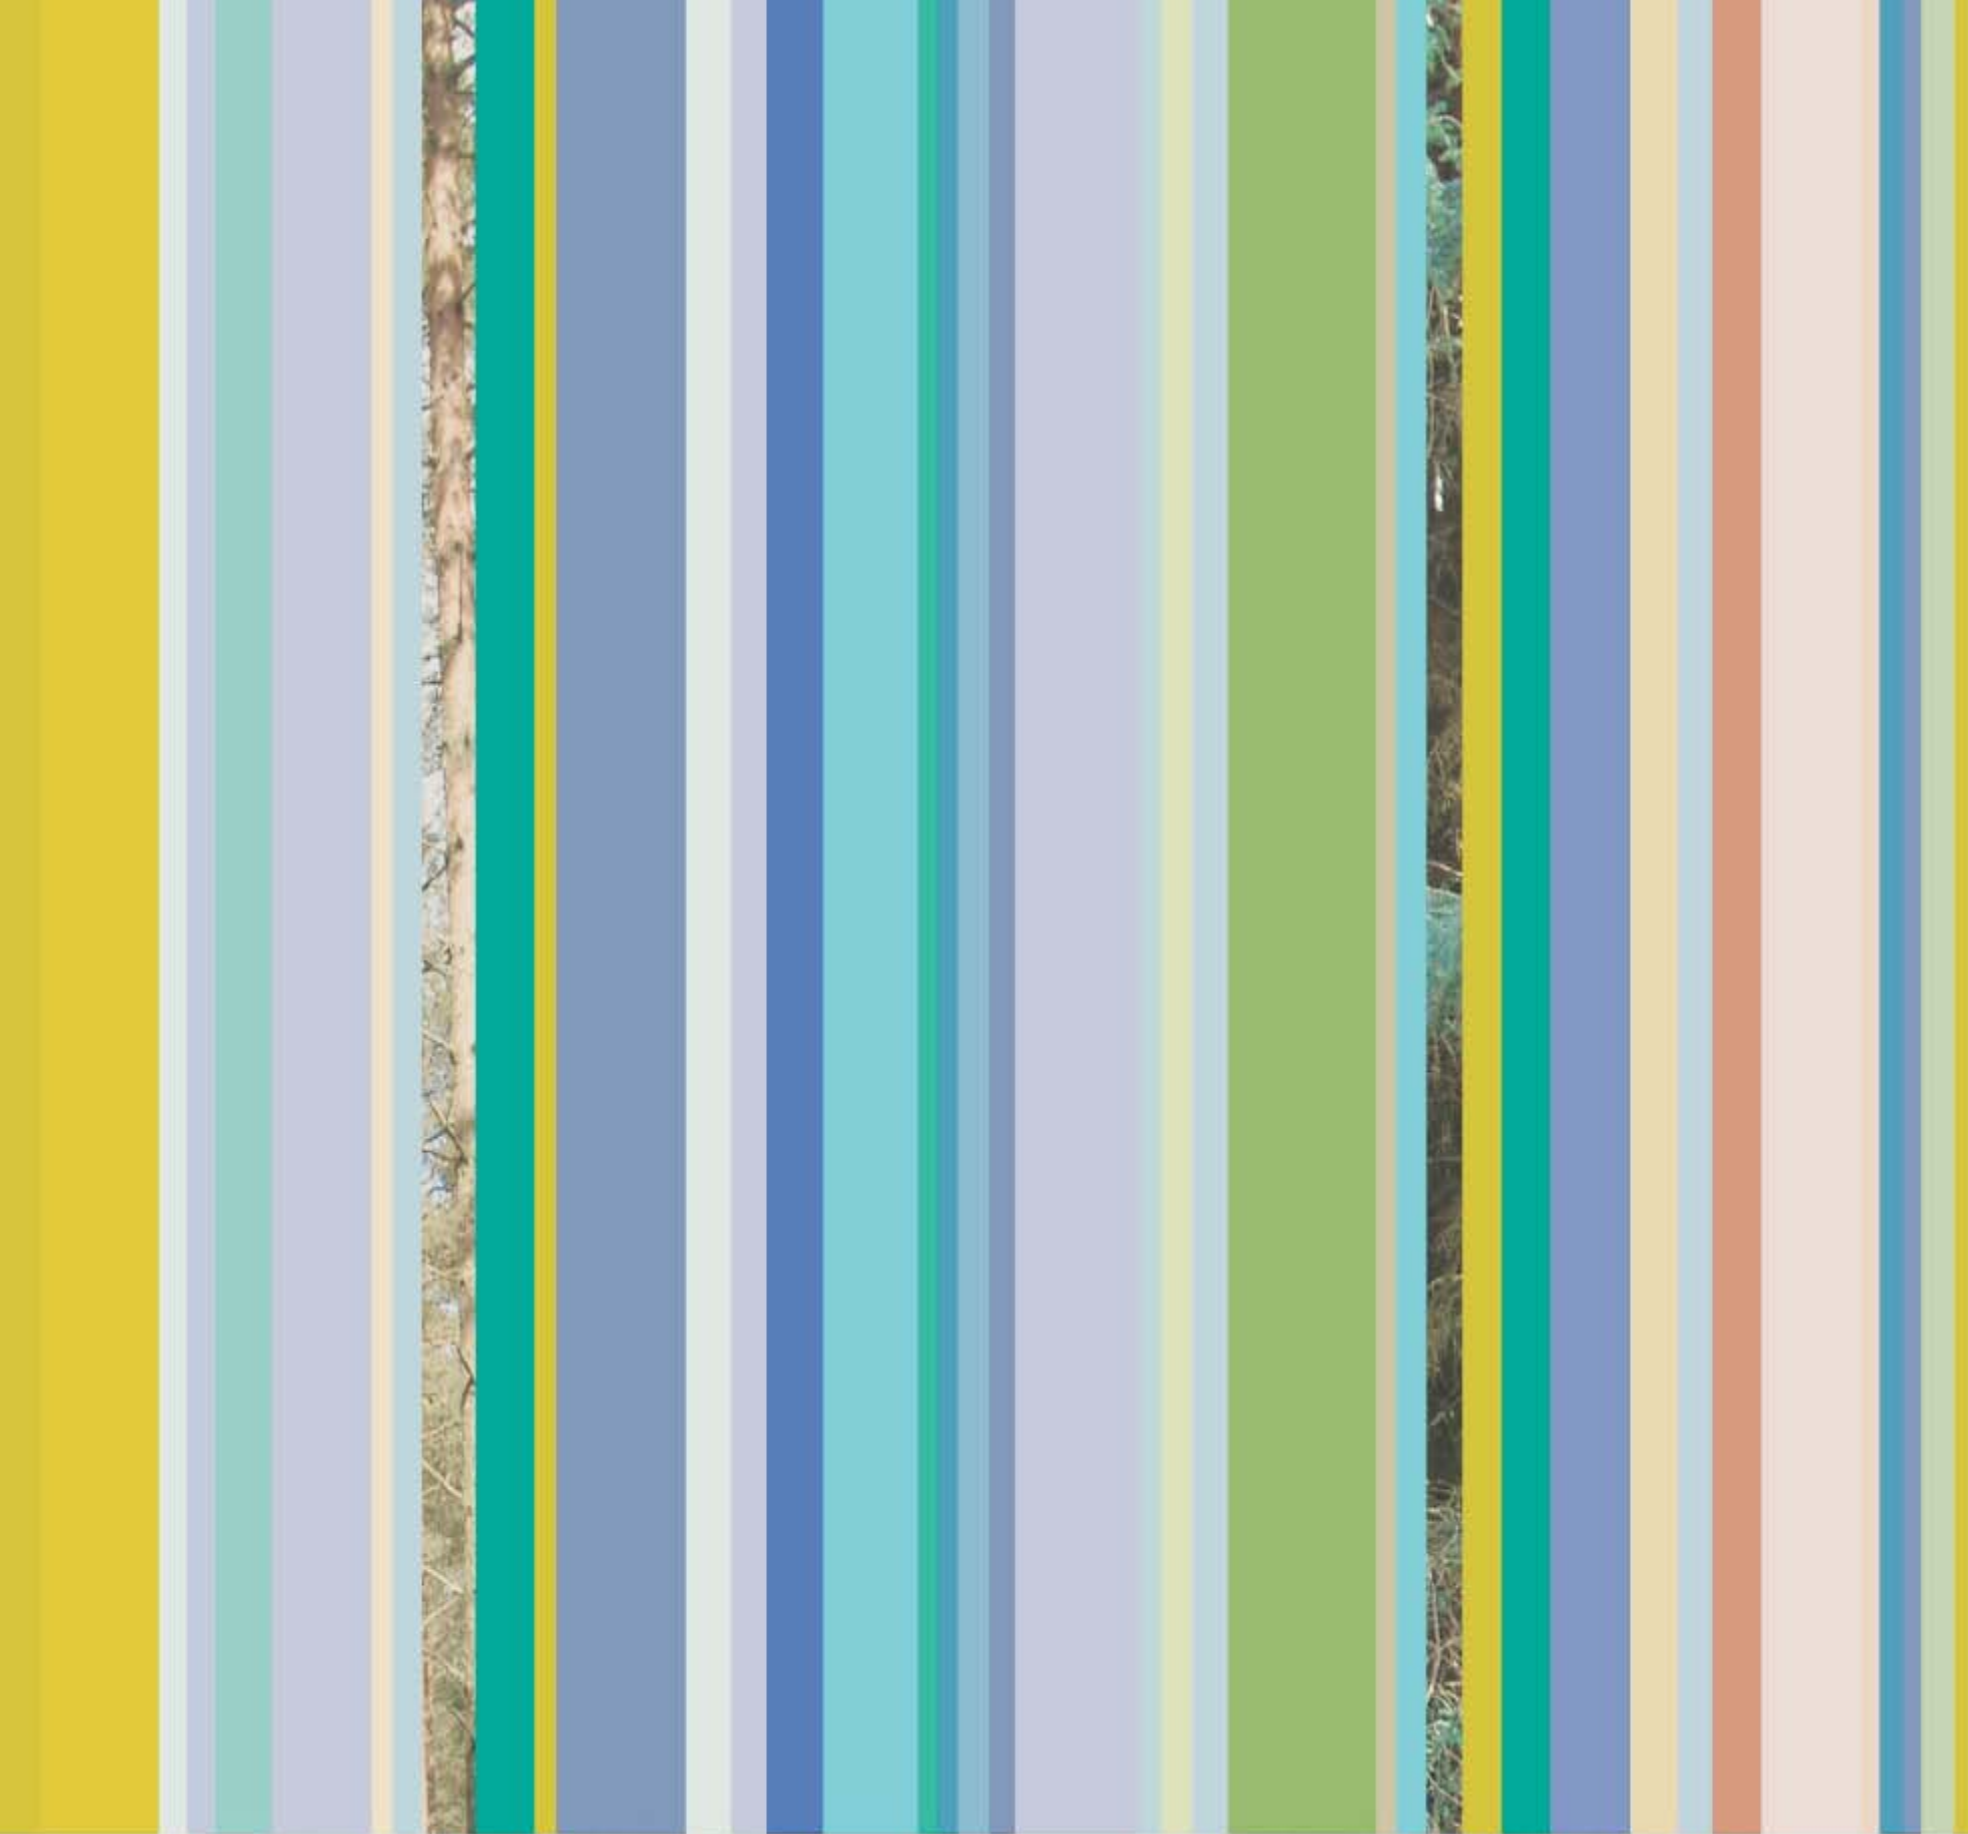

THE HOUSE SYSTEM

A House System is introduced in Junior School, which links into the four School Houses at the Senior School. Within this system, senior pupils are given the opportunity to display leadership qualities, to shoulder responsibility and to provide support for new and younger pupils. While all members of staff have a pastoral role, House Staff take particular responsibility for the welfare of the children in their Houses and are the first point of contact for parents with any concerns. In their exercise of pastoral care the House Staff have contact with pupils in various ways, including individual discussions, group get-togethers and House Assemblies. Each House organises outings, social occasions, fund-raising for charities as well as team or individual entrants for competitions and events. Transitus children participate fully in House activities but at that stage it is the Transitus Form Teacher who has the primary pastoral role. All pupils report to their Form Teachers at the start of each day but Transitus Form

Hand Design

The hand is a complex and expressive part of the body. It is used to hold, support, and articulate. In dance, the hand is often used to create a sense of weight, balance, and grace. The design on the hand in this image is a stylized representation of a hand in a specific pose, with blue and white colors and intricate patterns.

Legs

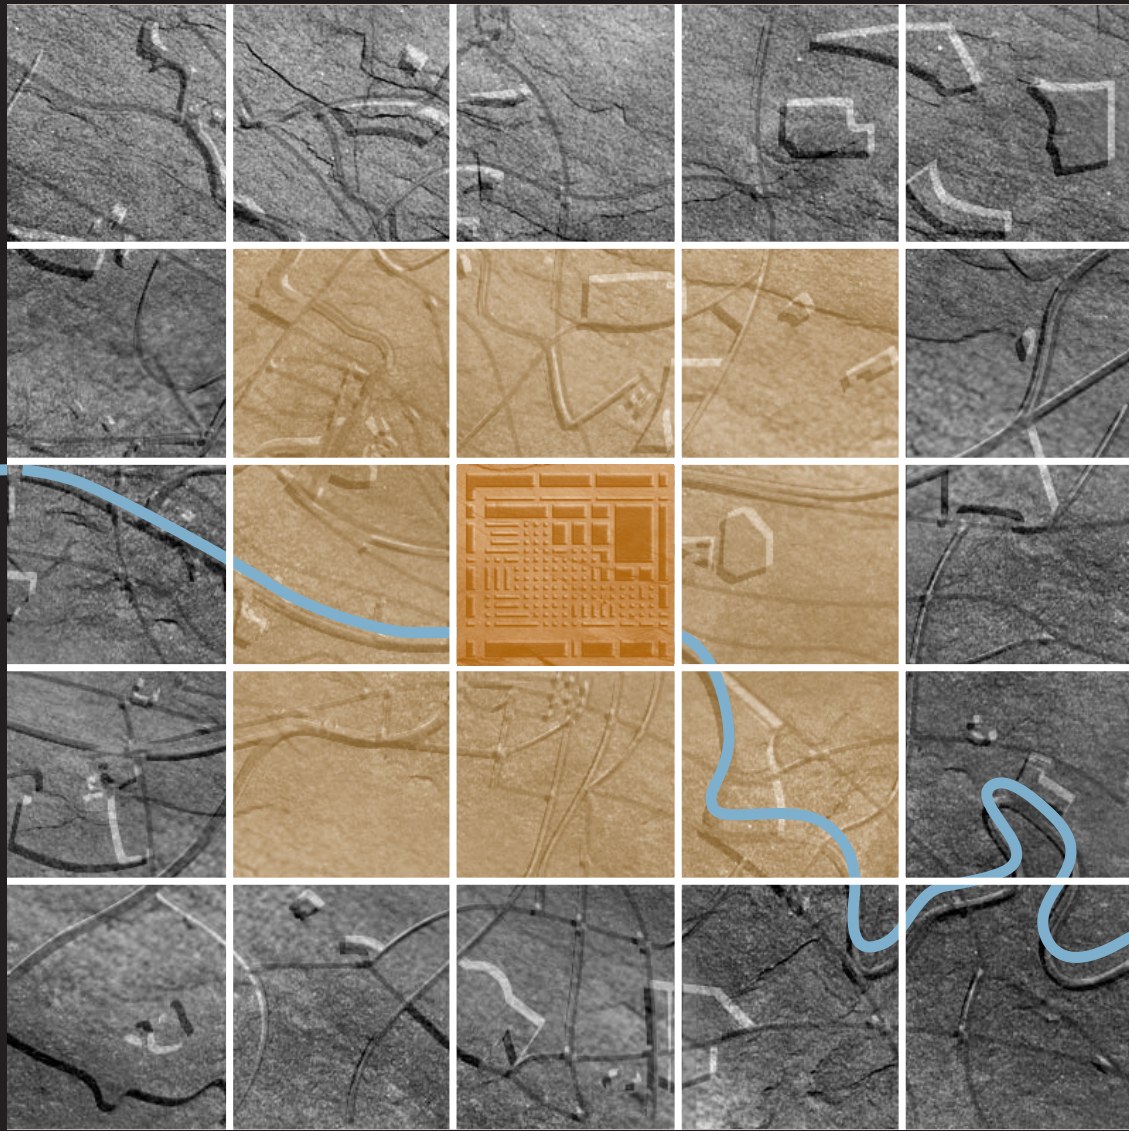

The legs are the foundation of a dancer's body. They are used to support the weight of the body and to create a sense of movement and flow. The design on the legs in this image is a stylized representation of a leg in a specific pose, with blue and white colors and intricate patterns.

DANCE SCHOOL

power - potential

The dance school offers a variety of classes and programs for students of all ages and abilities. Our classes include ballet, contemporary, and musical theatre. We also offer workshops and masterclasses with professional dancers and choreographers. Our goal is to provide a high-quality education and training in dance, and to help our students develop their skills and passion for the art form.
